Subject: microphone question

i found i own an old ASTATIC microphone.
it was given to me years ago,somebody painted it and today i found a picture that looked similiar to the one i have,so i removed some paint and found the name,no wonder it worked so well on my rigs does any one know where i find out info on old ASATIC mics,would like to know model #.
thanks

Subject: An appeal...

Our OT friend, Leon:

"Thank the good LORD for all that you have!!!
69yr old semi disabled senior !!! trying to get code speed to 13wpm (stroke got my eyesight, balance & coordination) SO ONLY BA'S NO SOLID STATE
Leon (Lee) Wiltsey 4600 Lake Haven blvd Sebring fl. 33872 KF4RCL TECK+"

sent me an email saying he'd been placed in the "dog house" (kicked off the list) for sending an off-topic post (the virus warning, I believe; at least heart was in the right place - his intentions were good). I feel very sad about this, for I believe the BA/GB lists, and his rediscovered ham radio hobby, were very important in his recovery from his stroke. (He's become a homebrew fanatic!) Thus, I appeal to the listowners to please allow Leon back on again as soon as possible...

Thank-you for considering my request,
Jeff KH2PZ / KH6

Subject: One week to Green Key Night (& Day)

So you want to re-live those old days when teleprinters were mechanical and every character that went out what typed by somebody on a real keyboard? Join us on Feb 20 for Green Key Night (& Day) to commemorate the opening of the HF bands to FSK RTTY, and to remember the pioneers. It's not a contest, no logs to send in, no scores to keep, and no rules. Just use a mechanical teleprinter if you can, use 850 shift now and then if you can, use vacuum tube gear if you can, but in any case get on the air and have fun and wallow in nostalgia. (I confess I'll be using a computer this year, as my old-gear station is all apart.)
